MERRY CHRISTMAS

Santa At Sleepy Hollow

A candy cane goes to Johnna Belter, one of more than a hundred boys and girls who talked with old Santa Sunday afternoon at Sleepy Hollow again today (Thursday) from two to five p.m. so that all the boys and girls can give their last-minute orders before Santa's annual trip by sleigh. Since there was no snow on Sunday, Santa sat inside a tent at Sleepy Hollow with a gaily lighted tree and gifts outside to beckon to motorists on Route 460.

Garment Factory Treats Youngsters

Santa Claus has been busy this week! Monday noon he came to see boys and girls of Pamplin Elementary School and Appomattox Primary School as the Appomattox Garment Factory treated the youngsters to luncheon, a cake walk with prizes and gifts for everyone – dolls for the girls and new dresses. For the boys – balls and sports outfits and for everybody a big red sack of fruit and candy. Carolyn Litchford (above) shows how she feels about the whole affair with a big hug and smile for Santa!

Honor Firemen

A photo of General U. S. Grant in Appomattox is nothing new, but it's especially WELCOME at Christmas time when the photo is part of a $50 bill – a gift to each fireman of the Appomattox Volunteers. Mayor H. B. Pack (far right) welcomed firemen, town and county officials Monday night to the annual firemen's dinner, sponsored by members of the Town Council. Accepting the gifts for firemen were the Fire Chief, C. R. Wooldridge (2nd from right) and his assistant Dick Bass (2nd from left). At far left is town policemen James R. Ford who assisted Paul E. Drinkard in collecting for the fire department.

Jaycees Hold Shopping Tour

Jaycees, their wives and other volunteers showed movies, led songs, fed these boys and girls hot dogs and other treats at the Appomattox Primary School – then took them on a shopping tour of Appomattox stores. They all had a good look at toys and candy and gifts for parents and brothers and sisters. Purchases were made – wrapped – and the evening "wrapped up" with greetings to all from Jaycees who say each year, "The Christmas Shopping Tour is our best project of the season."
